

Bistro du Vin

Wine First. Always.

From the very beginning, Hotel du Vin was created with one guiding principle, the wine comes first. Our cellar is more than a list; it's a journey through vineyards, vintages, and stories, carefully curated to surprise, delight, and inspire. Every bottle has a character, a place it calls home, and a reason it's found its way here.

This philosophy has shaped everything we do. Exceptional wines, enjoyed without pretense, deserve food crafted with the same respect and attention, honest, flavoursome bistro dishes that let the wine shine. The magic lies in the pairing: the way a sip can lift a flavour, or a bite can reveal a hidden note in the glass.

That's why our wine list comes before the menu. Because here, the glass is the starting point, the dish its perfect companion. At Hotel du Vin, we invite you to take your time, explore, and savour, because every great glass deserves a great plate alongside it.

Bistro du Vin Wine List

Wine; the very lifeblood of our Hotels & Bistros. You will find us passionate, but not pretentious; excited, but not elitist. We are here to help you explore, discover, or simply enjoy your favourites. Our expert in-house wine ambassadors and bar teams can draw from a cellar with an extensive mix of wines from around the world. It promises something for everyone ~ from a simplified selection of quaffable wines by the glass, to sophisticated and complex varieties from leading wine makers from every continent.

French food and wine are at the heart of Bistro du Vin and we have a selection of wines we are immensely proud of, from across the many notable wine appellations in France. Here you will find each of the regions and the wines currently featured within this list:

To Decant or Not to Decant?

The question of 'should wine always be decanted' is regularly asked by our guests. Before we can answer this let us look at the two main reasons why we decant wine. Firstly, to oxidise the wine through the transfer of wine from the bottle to the decanter, and the increased surface area of the wine to air contact in the decanter. This oxidation helps to soften the acidity in the wine and makes the wine 'smoother' and more enjoyable to drink. Secondly, the process of decanting helps to remove any sediment from the wine. However, does this mean that all wines should be decanted, and the answer is no!

Styles of wine that get the most benefit from being decanted are those either with high levels of sediment or bigger, more full-bodied reds such as Barolo from Italy and Cabernet based wines. These styles of wine are full bodied and high in tannins, the decanting process therefore helps to make these wines softer and more enjoyable to drink. Other wines, for instance most whites and lighter reds such as Pinot Noir tend not to benefit from the decanting process and may even deteriorate from being decanted. However, ultimately the choice of whether you wish to have your wine decanted or not is yours; we will just recommend the wines that benefit most from the decantation process.

Old World vs New World

Terms used frequently in the wine world, but what do they really mean? Well, there are a number of differences between New World and Old World wine growing countries and all of them have exceptions to the rules! Primarily most European countries are classed as Old World, since wine making originated in these countries and dates back hundreds of years. However, a more significant difference is the labelling terminology. Most wines that originate from Old World countries, such as France, Spain and Italy, are named after the place where they are produced. Whereas wines from the New World are often named after the grape variety or the brand name given by the producer, or both!

For example, Chablis, Bordeaux, Rioja, Barolo, Sancerre and Champagne are all places that are iconic for producing wines and they all have strict laws over what they can and cannot do in their grape growing and wine making, even down to which varieties they can or cannot grow. The New World does not have the same type of laws, hence you can have a 'Chardonnay' labelled wine from all over the world. However, unless you know which Old World wine region is permitted to grow which varieties you may not know that Chablis makes wines from Chardonnay grapes and Sancerre from Sauvignon Blanc grapes!

Wine Glass Shapes

The bigger the glass, the better the wine, right? Wrong! The correct wine glass shape and size is more about matching with the style of the wine than the quality of it. For example, a high-acid white wine such as Sauvignon Blanc, no matter what the quality, will always be best enjoyed in a smaller wine glass. Whereas a Pinot Noir or an oaked Chardonnay should be in a larger, more bulbous 'Burgundy' wine glass and a full-bodied red, such as a Cabernet Sauvignon, in a tall, larger 'Bordeaux' wine glass.

There are a number of considerations in matching wine style and wine glass shape, including the way our nose and sense of smell receive these wines, but the main reason is the consideration of which parts of the tongue, the 'palate', we wish the wine to be received by.

The palate has different sections that identify the various elements of the wine. The glass shape helps to position the wine correctly around the palate whilst being drunk, to maximise the enjoyment of that style of wine. So, when wine is served in the correct glass, it can make a huge difference to the enjoyment of that wine!

Cork vs Screw Cap

Wine makers have lots of options now on how to seal their wine bottles. Real cork, artificial cork, plastic corks, screw caps, even glass stoppers are all available, but does the choice of stopper really make a difference? There are benefits to various bottle stoppers, so let's look at the top two options. Firstly, real cork has the romance and historical significance and is believed to be very important to the maturing process of wines that need time to age. However, the chances of a faulty wine from a bottle with a real cork are higher! Screw cap wines are more sustainable, cheaper and far less likely to cause a wine fault, but they do not have the same romance and presentation as a cork, nor do they have the same impact on the aging process. Overall our take on it is that for a wine that does not need to age to improve, such as a high-acid white made to be drunk young and fresh, a screw cap is ideal, but for a wine that needs time to age, such as a premium Bordeaux, we prefer the benefits of real cork.

Roast du Vin

A British institution. Meats were traditionally roasted in front of a fire on a Sunday, dating back to the reign of King Henry VII. Since the 15th century, the royal bodyguards have been known as 'Beefeaters' because of their love of eating roast beef. In the 18th century the French started calling Englishmen 'rosbifs'. Therefore it is only fitting that 'rosbif' is one of centrepieces of the perfect Sunday lunch at Hotel du Vin.
